We must have come a bit late at half past 12 noon, because most of the guests were already eating. But then, there were others who came in after us. Doesn't matter, because it's the fine company that counts. We were one of the last to leave at 4:30.

And the food was terrific. Too bad I forgot to take pictures of the main food table, and the dessert and cakes table, wherein Tigi's 80th year birthday cake took center stage.

Anyway, it was loads of fun: meeting old friends, catching up on the latest news, especially about health issues.

Above is a group picture of everybody who attended, sans one or two children who accompanied their folks.

The range was from circa mid 1950's to late 1960's.

The listing at left is funny because I give the nicknames with the maiden names, and the married family name. This should help the earlier oldtimers in the loop help relate who is who, and perhaps to remind many of the girls who they were.

Hope I didn't make any errors.

Cheers to all.
